Bishop Manogue Catholic High School Chooses New Girls Basketball Coach

(Reno, Nev., May 29, 2015)—Carnel Wiley will be the Head Girls Basketball Coach at Bishop Manogue Catholic High School. Wiley is currently the Instructional Director for Nevada Basketball Academy (NBA) and has just finished a successful season as the Head Coach of the Bloomington Flex, a men's team within the Midwest Professional Basketball Association.

Wiley has been involved in basketball coaching and administration for more than 13 years, at the high school, junior college, college and professional levels, and according to Manogue Principal Rick Harris is uniquely suited to move in to the position vacated recently by Craig Holt.

“Not only does Wiley bring a wealth of experience and knowledge,” said Harris, “he’s also familiar with many of our local players and families through his work with NBA. We are very pleased to find such a good fit for our Bishop Manogue Program.”

*Bishop Manogue Catholic High School is a four-year Catholic, co-educational high school in Reno, Nevada. It is the only Catholic high school in northern Nevada, and was established in 1948. It is a separately incorporated non-profit diocesan school operated under the authority of the Diocesan Bishop, Randolph R. Calvo.
